TEACHING AND LEARNING COURSES

Steve Garnett: @Garnett_S

Steve Garnett is a teacher, author and one of Dragonfly Training's senior trainers. He regularly delivers realistic and practical CPD sessions across the UK and throughout Europe, the Middle East and the Far East. Over the past 10 years, Steve has delivered teacher training to over 8,000 teachers, many of whom have described his approach as "inspirational".

Steve's education publications have been extremely well-received. His latest book, 'The Subject Leader', was shortlisted for a prestigious Education Resources Award and an earlier publication, 'Using Brain Power in the Classroom', was praised by a TES review.

RESEARCH FOR LEARNING (RFL)

Turning evidence-based educational research into practical classroom ideas

BANGKOK 6 OCTOBER, 9:30AM – 3:30PM

This course will:

- ✓ Focus on the 'Magnificent 7' strategies that make the biggest impact
- ✓ Reveal the secrets behind 'meta-analysis' and effect sizes
- ✓ Break the strategies down into practical classroom ideas
- ✓ Demonstrate the power of taking an evidence-based approach to teaching

Course delivered by Steve Garnett

"This was an excellent course, one of the best I have attended in a long time. It was full of practical ideas which will be easily transferable into my own teaching."

Jason Jones, St Francis Xavier College, UK

RfL

In the last 2-3 years we have seen an unprecedented rise in our understanding of what works best in classrooms. Based on extensive worldwide research, teachers now have the information they need to understand which classroom interventions have the best 'effect'.

Although the course will share the research with delegates it will focus only on what a classroom teacher can directly influence. Drawing from a world-wide source of meta-analysis, all the ideas will be underpinned with detailed examples of how to transform this evidence-based research into classroom practice.

6 OCTOBER

DEVELOPING INDEPENDENT STUDY SKILLS IN SENIOR STUDENTS

Developing Independent learners through effective study skills

BANGKOK 7 OCTOBER, 9:30AM – 3:30PM

This course will:

- ✓ Identify the study skills that students need to succeed in education and beyond
- ✓ Demonstrate how to successfully equip your students with these skills
- ✓ Equip you with the tools, strategies and templates to implement ideas the very next day
- ✓ Provide a comprehensive range of course materials to sustain long-term study skills progress

Course delivered by Steve Garnett

"A superb course which surpassed my expectations! Superb handouts and lots of new ideas which I will most definitely be using in lessons immediately."

Nathan Shrubbs, Bryanston School, UK

Developing effective and efficient study skills in students is essential for promoting independent learning which can be used at this level of education and beyond. By instilling key skills such as effective note making, powerful memory techniques, time management and self-productivity, students can become more autonomous learners.

This highly practical course will demonstrate proven strategies for promoting and improving study skills before providing teachers with the opportunity to model the techniques themselves. Delegates will be equipped with the knowledge, understanding and strategies to implement what they've learnt the very next day.

THE VERY LATEST IN ASSESSMENT FOR LEARNING

What the latest research is telling us

BANGKOK 8 OCTOBER, 9:30AM – 3:30PM

This course will:

- ✓ Outline the core features of assessment for learning
- ✓ Clarify what learning objectives are and what they aren't
- ✓ Show how to review progress through formative feedback
- ✓ Promote meaningful peer assessment strategies
- ✓ Develop effective questioning to check for genuine understanding
- ✓ Promote ways of ensuring meaningful peer and self-assessment

Course delivered by Steve Garnett

"This is one of the most practical and relevant courses focused on actual learning and modelled on great practice."

Nigel Barrett, Deputy Head, British School Manila

This course aims to offer a model of how to link the two principle components of assessment - formative and summative - and discuss how they can co-exist together. It will model the planning and delivery of a lesson that takes into account the core features of effective AfL but also builds on other recent key educational research. It will address some big questions like: "Why should we be doing it?"; "Am I doing it as effectively as I can?"; and "Is it seamless or a 'bolt-on'?".

TWILIGHT COURSE – OPPORTUNITIES, PITFALLS AND SAFEGUARDING IN A DIGITAL WORLD – A COURSE FOR EVERY CLASSROOM TEACHER

BANGKOK 8 OCTOBER, 4:30PM – 6:30PM

TWILIGHT: $59 USD PER COURSE

This course will:

- ✓ Demonstrate the opportunities to improve learning via digital media for our 'digital natives'
- ✓ Explain the pitfalls of using digital media irresponsibly – from plagiarism to piracy
- ✓ Focus on information literacy as a way of becoming a more effective learner
- ✓ Explore how to combat cyber-bullying, manage internet safety and the issues of self-image and identity

Course delivered by Steve Garnett

Are you a classroom teacher who is both excited but also concerned about the accessibility of technology that pupils have today? Pupils are using the power of digital media to learn, create and connect in ways never seen before; this provides an incredible range of opportunities, but also many pitfalls. This course will look at these opportunities but also the pitfalls and offer practical classroom strategies to manage both. Specifically we will examine how a high level of digital literacy allows pupils to learn even better and become responsible digital citizens.

This course is designed for any teacher who wants strategies to support pupils in using digital media effectively, responsibly and productively within their lessons or at home.

A PRACTICAL GUIDE TO DIFFERENTIATED LEARNING

How to challenge all students to raise academic standards

BANGKOK 9 OCTOBER, 9:30AM – 3:30PM

This course will:

- ✓ Provide a range of proven, lesson-ready strategies that reflect best practice from around the world
- ✓ Demonstrate how to adapt these strategies to specific age ranges
- ✓ Explain how to develop successful differentiated learning classrooms in your school
- ✓ Explore ideas to implement that are low on teacher time but high on effective differentiation
- ✓ Put everything into an easily understood format that can be applied across the school

Course delivered by Steve Garnett

Challenging students of different abilities is vital to achieve outstanding overall progress. This course will provide your school's teachers with a plethora of ideas, tips and lesson structures to ensure that all students are appropriately challenged. The course will be delivered through examples drawn from a wide range of subjects and can be tailored to any age range. It will explore practical approaches to creating differentiated schemes of work and lesson plans essential to success.

"Very impressive delivery, full of energy and passion. Lots of practical advice and ideas that could be implemented with immediate effect."

Rob Hills, Bangkok International Preparatory & Secondary School

EFFECTIVE MARKING AND FEEDBACK

A practical guide to making your feedback effective and time-efficient

BANGKOK 10 OCTOBER, 9:30AM – 3:30PM

This course will:

- ✓ Demonstrate how to effectively feed back to pupils on a group or individual level, in a written or oral manner and how to make this process as time-efficient as possible
- ✓ Showcase the top six marking strategies that can be used across all subjects and age groups
- ✓ Demonstrate how to secure real and lasting change through feedback
- ✓ Discuss the key principles of effective feedback
- ✓ Explain how to generate a marking dialogue

Course delivered by Steve Garnett

High quality marking and feedback remain at the core of good teaching. However, inspection after inspection reveal these to be very often the most rushed aspect of pupils' learning processes. Add to this that nearly all teachers declare that they suffer real stress from the marking load they are given and you have one of the areas of highest priority in education today.

This unique course aims to demonstrate how marking and feedback becomes progressively more demanding as the key stage goes on, thus building in progression and rigour as pupils move through a scheme of work.

Joe was key in updating the ICT elements of the QCDA SoW for KS2 Primary French; he also designed games for Heinemann's 'Expo'. Joe has featured in several Education Guardian articles and has himself both written for and been quoted by the TES. Joe has also written for the TES ICT blog and produced video tutorials for the CILT 14-19 website. Joe recently starred on a Teachers TV programme and has spoken about the Rose Review proposals on BBC Radio 4. His blog www.joedale.typepad.com has been nominated for four Edublog Awards.

MAKE YOUR CLASSROOM AN IPAD CLASSROOM! (DAY ONE)

The totally practical guide to using iPads in the classroom

BANGKOK 6 OCTOBER, 9:30AM – 3:30PM

This course will:

- ✓ Show how the iPad marks a change in pedagogy by encouraging creativity, personalisation and learner autonomy
- ✓ Demonstrate how a range of apps can promote different skills and cater to learning styles producing professional looking resources
- ✓ Pool ideas about the usefulness of different apps via an online bulletin board

Course delivered by Joe Dale

This workshop will explore practical ideas on how iPads can facilitate collaboration and foster creativity through personalised learning journeys and workflows. We will look at how the multi-modal device can help learners access higher order thinking skills, cater to multiple intelligences and create new ways of working, putting the learning right in the students' hands. Joe Dale will walk you through how easily iOS devices can be used for creating multimedia content including narrated slideshows, digital audio and moviemaking. You will also have time to plan a set of lessons in small groups integrating the use of iPad apps and showcase your outcomes together.

MAKE YOUR CLASSROOM AN IPAD CLASSROOM! (DAY TWO)

Personalised learning with multimedia and formative assessment: The totally practical guide to using iPads in the language classroom

BANGKOK 7 OCTOBER, 9:30AM – 3:30PM

This course will:

- ✓ Provide hands on practice on a range of apps involved in creating multimedia layered outcomes
- ✓ Allow delegates to produce personalised animations and engaging video clips incorporating green screening
- ✓ Introduce delegates to the power and potential of QR

Course delivered by Joe Dale

Stand-alone course – attendance at Day One not required for Day Two

“Passionate, enthusiastic and knowledgeable trainer who took every opportunity to pass on his expertise and valuable experience.”

Vicky Pugh, Taunton School, UK

In this hands-on workshop, delegates will develop the skills necessary to integrate iPads successfully into lessons and enhance learning outcomes. You will have plenty of opportunity to create multimedia content such as animations and screencasts as well as more complex techniques such as greenscreening and appsmashing. We will also be exploring the educational potential of QR codes in the classroom and facilitating formative assessment through interactive exercises and classroom voting.

7 OCTOBER

MAKE YOUR MFL CLASSROOM AN IPAD CLASSROOM!

The totally practical guide to using iPads in the language classroom

BANGKOK 8 OCTOBER, 9:30AM – 3:30PM

This course will:

- ✓ Make great use of iPads to motivate and extend your students
- ✓ Look at effective ways of enhancing pronunciation and pupils' spoken work
- ✓ Use iPads for formative assessment and peer review
- ✓ Find ways to help channel your pupils' creativity and promote their collaborative skills.

Course delivered by Joe Dale

“I came away with the best apps for the job and full knowledge on how to use them and full of ideas... Instead of having to test and sift through the thousands of apps out there, I have the best ones!”

Regina O'Dwyer, Brighton College, Abu Dhabi

This course is designed to reveal the power and potential of the iPad for enhancing language learning. You will have plenty of hands-on opportunities to get to grips with digital storytelling, animation and filmmaking which promote creativity, foster collaboration and allow learners to access higher order thinking skills. Guided by recognised expert on the use of technology in the language classroom, Joe Dale, you will be able to produce professional looking multimedia content simply and easily using free or inexpensive apps.

EAL COURSES

Fran Jones: @CameraManFran

Francis Jones has extensive experience of teaching and training English, EAL and literacy skills in the UK and across the globe. As one of the first people to deliver interactive whiteboard training nearly 10 years ago, Francis has long since embraced an approach to teaching that blends traditional methodology with technology. He delivers interactive whiteboard training to teachers of all subjects, with a specialism in EAL, and is ever mindful of the need to use technology when it aids learning, not simply because it is fashionable to do so. As an accomplished writer and producer (with numerous comedy, drama and documentary scripts for BBC Radio and television to his name), Fran brings a unique perspective and insightful humour to his courses. His co-authored book for EAL teachers, 400 Ideas for Interactive Whiteboards, is published by Macmillan.

A NEW APPROACH TO MAINSTREAM EAL: BLENDED LEARNING (SECONDARY)

Blending IT and new media with traditional approaches to enhance teaching, independent learning and student participation

BANGKOK 24 NOVEMBER, 9:30AM – 3:30PM

This course will:

- ✓ Offer a day of practical, hands-on learning strategies
- ✓ Provide a wealth of activities that can be used in class with immediate effect
- ✓ Introduce radical new ways to engage with traditional methods and materials
- ✓ Show ways that technology can be used to teach English as an additional language
- ✓ Demonstrate cutting-edge methods that enhance student interest and participation

Course delivered by Fran Jones

New methods of teaching English to non-native speakers are emerging with such rapidity it's difficult to know which approaches to adopt and which ones to abandon.

This course shows how to blend face-to-face teaching with independent learning/self-study (in the class and at home) which is made possible through the utilisation of new technology and IT. What this means is taking the best the internet has to offer, as well as looking at how to incorporate other IT applications like film and video editing software. The course also looks at how to use interactive whiteboard software to store all your IT materials in one place for easy access and utilisation – whether you have an IWB or not.

24 NOVEMBER

A NEW APPROACH TO MAINSTREAM EAL: BLENDED LEARNING (PRIMARY)

Blending IT and new media with traditional approaches to enhance teaching, independent learning and student participation

BANGKOK 25 NOVEMBER, 9:30AM – 3:30PM

This course will:

- ✓ Show how easy it is to master new technology to aid your teaching
- ✓ Demonstrate radical new methods that will enhance student participation
- ✓ Provide a toolkit of strategies that can be used in class the very next day
- ✓ Provide a safe environment for experimentation and learning
- ✓ Offer a day of hands-on learning strategies.

Course delivered by Fran Jones

"Very useful and clear to understand, also enjoyable and fun. Can't wait to practice more and use the method and technology at my school!"

Supawan Kingnate, Harrow International School, Bangkok

Technological teaching applications are evolving with such speed that considering which ones to use can be a daunting prospect. This course picks the best websites, tools and IT applications, and draws on proven Primary school teaching strategies to show you how to maximise their use in the classroom. Demonstrating dozens of practical ideas that can be used the very next day, the course mixes traditional teaching methods with new methodology to show how you can make teaching and learning easy and fun.

25 NOVEMBER

TWILIGHT COURSE: FILM AND VIDEO PRODUCTION

Release your inner director in this highly innovative and creative session

BANGKOK 25 NOVEMBER, 4:30PM – 6:30PM

This course will:

- ✓ Teach you how to direct and shoot like a professional.
- ✓ Demonstrate how you can produce a range of films to suit every need.
- ✓ Show how to edit using free software available to all.
- ✓ Teach a range of professional techniques like single camera directing and chroma-key (green screen) shooting and editing

Course delivered by Fran Jones

TWILIGHT: $59 USD PER COURSE

Led by an experienced BBC Producer, this course takes delegates on a fascinating journey as they learn professional filming and editing techniques that are easy to master and apply. Once the principles of shooting and editing are understood, delegates are able to apply their newfound skills across a range of film genres which are perfect for use in the classroom. Drama, exemplar PE footage, interviews, science experiments and field-trips are all possible to produce, as are presentations and departmental promos that can be shown at open days and parents' evenings.

USING IPADS TO TEACH ENGLISH AS AN ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE

Add dynamism to your teaching with the revolutionary device of the future

BANGKOK 26 NOVEMBER, 9:30AM – 3:30PM

This course will:

- ✓ Show how easy it is to master the iPad for use in the classroom
- ✓ Deliver a totally hands-on day to ensure delegates can implement new strategies immediately
- ✓ Demonstrate a range of tools and apps that can be downloaded and mastered within minutes
- ✓ Show how teachers can transform their teaching e.g. by using multimedia applications to create 'flipped lessons'
- ✓ Provide teachers with a framework to forge their own unique paths ahead

Course delivered by Fran Jones

Language learning and iPads are perfect partners: no teaching area necessitates more the honing of speaking, listening, reading, writing and presentation skills - and the iPad provides the perfect means by which to practice and perfect each one of these disciplines. This course shows just how quickly and easily the iPad can be integrated into your classroom, whilst also demonstrating how students can be guided to create a vast range of materials and resources (like videos and multi-media journals) that aid their acquisition of English. Quite simply, this is the device of the future and the benefits for EAL teachers are immeasurable.

NOTE: All delegates MUST bring a fully charged iPad with them.

26 NOVEMBER

ENGLISH LANGUAGE TEACHING FOR THE NON-SPECIALIST TEACHER

The course that gives you the confidence to teach English effectively

HO CHI MINH 27 NOVEMBER 9:30AM – 3:30PM

This course will:

- ✓ Equip teachers with the rudiments of English grammar
- ✓ Provide a range of strategies to help improve students' speaking, writing, listening and comprehension skills
- ✓ Show how a range of applications can aid language acquisition
- ✓ Demonstrate how IT software and mobile device apps can be used to teach
- ✓ Show how teachers can get their students to create their own teaching materials

Course delivered by Fran Jones

"This course was very interesting and helpful. I'm taking a lot of new technologies and interesting ideas with me!"

Cindy Kim, Harrow International School, Bangkok

This day provides an essential refresher course on numerous aspects of English grammar and is packed with tips and tricks to help you learn and teach the fundamental rules of language. The course is crammed with great ideas and resources and is ideal for teachers who have to cover language classes – plus those who feel under-confident about how language works: it is also ideal for those who merely wish to brush up their knowledge. So if you're wondering just why that apostrophe goes where it does, or if you're having trouble sorting your phrasal verbs from your third conditionals, this is the course for you.
